REPORT TO THE PROPRIETORS,

24TH FEBRUARY, 1836.

THE Council regret that it is not in their power to announce to the Proprietors the actual completion of the comprehensive plan of the Government for the establishment of a Metropolitan University, as stated to the Proprietors at the late Special General Meeting. It is in connexion only with such an Institution that the Collegiate Charter offered to the University of London is of any value; but the Council entertain a perfect conviction that the delay has been occasioned merely by a desire, on the part of His Majesty's Ministers, to arrange all the requisite details with the care necessary for the founding a design of such great national importance, and calculated for permanent duration.

On this most important of subjects, matter equally of congratulation and hope, the Council expect soon to be enabled to convene an Extraordinary Meeting of the Proprietors.

The Council have now the satisfaction of directing the attention of the Proprietors to the continually increasing prosperity of the University.

On inspection of the accounts before the Meeting, it will be seen that the ordinary receipts for the year ending on the 1st of October last were more than sufficient to cover the disbursements and liabilities, both ordinary and extraordinary, incurred during the same period, including interest on Mortgage, and the cost of articles now forming part of the Capital Stock of the Establishment.

The Council are the more disposed to dwell on this circumstance, because it is one which has not occurred in relation to any previous year since the foundation of the Institution.

The total expenditure of the year ending October 1835, amounted to 4613*l.* 2*s.* 1*d.*; of which sum there were paid, on account of the debts of former Sessions, 1487*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.*, and in part of the expenses of the year, 3125*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.*; leaving liabilities not then paid, on account of that year, to the amount of 450*l.* 12*s.* 8*d.* The total expense, on account of the year, therefore, has been 3575*l.* 17*s.* The receipts during the same period, from the University proportion of fees paid by Students, Pupils in the School, from fees on transfers, and interest on investments, were 3577*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.* In the expenses considered as belonging to the year, are included, for interest on mortgage, 180*l.*; for sums expended on articles carried to Capital Stock, 178*l.* 16*s.* 9*d.*

It will be observed also, that the actual ordinary expenditure fell short of the estimate by upwards of 350*l.*

By the disposal of the Exchequer Bill for 1000*l.*, the first donation of a Patriot, at the close of the Session, the Council were enabled to discharge several arrears of claims on the funds of the Institution, on account of former Sessions, which pressed for payment; but this appropriation was made as a temporary arrangement, and with the express understanding, recorded on the Minutes of the Council, that the first opportunity should be taken of setting apart a like sum, to be applied to the objects of the University in such a way as would perpetuate the remembrance of the munificence of the Donor.

The Council have good reason to expect that the financial report of the current year will prove yet more satisfactory than that of the last.

The statement of the number of Students who have taken tickets for classes for the present Session, and of the amount of fees received since October, exhibits a very considerable increase on both heads, notwithstanding the postponement this year, until the summer, of a large and important class, namely, that of Botany.

The increase, up to the 17th of February, in the number of University Students in the present Session, as compared with the last, is 46. In the Junior School the numbers are, excepting one less, the same. The fees received up to that period last year, yielded a gross amount of 9913*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.*: the produce this year is 10,630*l.* 5*s.* 10*d.* A Table, showing the number of Students, and the amount of fees of the two years, is among the documents submitted to the Meeting.

The Mortgage for 2500*l.* on the property of the University, which was authorized by the Proprietors at the last General Meeting, was effected shortly afterwards, and the sum so raised was applied to the purposes of the North London Hospital, out of the funds of which the interest has been duly paid. The printed report of the Hospital Committee for 1834-5, is among the papers before the Meeting, and will show, that although still dependent on the exertions and generosity of individuals, that establishment is also in a very promising condition.

The fees paid by Students for the advantage of witnessing the practice of the Hospital, and of receiving Clinical Instruction, during the year ending 31st October last, and which, by the liberality of the Physicians and Surgeons, are applied to the expenses of the Hospital, amounted to 3130*l.*

The Professors continue with unabated zeal to perform their duty to the Students and the University. It seems but reasonable to hope that when the opportunity of graduating in the Metropolis is afforded, many of the Classes may receive a very considerable increase. It is to be expected also that the recent regulations subjecting articled clerks of Attorneys and Solicitors to an examination previously to admission, will tend to augment the Law Class of this Institution.

In the month of May last a second donation of an Exchequer Bill of 1000*l.* was received through the bank of Messrs. Prescott, Grote, and Co., from the same liberal and philanthropic individual who on a former occasion had presented the like sum; and who, still desiring the concealment of his name, requested that his gift might be again recorded as the donation of a "Patriot." The announcement of this gift was first made to Lord Brougham, to whose judgement the Donor left it to decide in what manner it might produce most benefit to the Institution, and promote the comfort and knowledge of the greatest number.

Several modes of carrying into effect the intentions of this munificent friend to the University have been suggested; but as yet no definitive plan for the appropriation of the endowment has been proposed by the Noble Lord to whom the manner in which it shall be applied is referred.

Among the other donations of the year, there is one which, independently of its intrinsic use and value, the Council think deserving of particular notice, as showing the esteem in which the Institution, and the principles on which it is founded, are held by persons residing at a distance, and wholly unconnected with it, and whose opinions, from their attainments and pursuits, are of more than ordinary value. They allude to the donation by Mrs. Oliver, of Wigstone, Leicestershire, of the collection of books of her deceased son, Major Oliver. This library consists of 516 volumes, principally modern classics, in various languages, in good condition; and was presented to the University at the request of their late owner. Major Oliver was desirous, it is stated by Mrs. Oliver, of conferring on the Institution a still more substantial proof of his approbation, by a bequest, to take effect after the decease of his surviving parent; but that the nature and circumstances of his property prevented him from giving effect to this desire previously to his premature decease.

The donation by Mr. Kennedy of three Statues in marble, representing the Hindoo deities (Brahma, Vishnu, and Siva), were noticed particularly at the time of the Distribution of Prizes, and an account of them will be found in the printed report of the proceedings on that occasion.

The Council have appointed Mr. Atkinson Secretary to the University, in the place of Mr. Coates, whose resignation of that office was announced in their last Report.

By Order of the Council,

CHARLES C. ATKINSON, Secretary.
